La Tribuleira Moscato d'Asti DOCG 2005,
Piedmont ($20)

I'm not sure who the current king of Moscato is (Ceretto?), but young Mauro Gallo is certainly the prince and heir apparent. An absolutely beautiful wine. Soft, intense and fragrant exuding peaches, apples and pear aromas and flavours. Fills the mouth with clean, fine bubbles and loads of penetrating fruit. It's nearly impossible to stop drinking, as every Moscato d'Asti should be. Pair with dark chocolate and you have a classic match made in heaven.
